Are Leaders impacting their world as they should? Are they able to withstand systemic corruption or abuse of power found in some corporate and political fields? Are folks willing and bold enough to speak up and speak out against the ills within their organizational, religious or political systems where they work or serve? These are some of the many questions bordering on taking a godly stand in the face of societal ills that we wish to attend to in our pioneer courses at Faith Leads University.

Faith Leads University is a 100% online faith based university with a collaborative and practical approach to learning. Through all aspects of the student experience here at FLU, we aim to instill godly virtues in our students so they always stand out in moral and ethical excellence as current and future leaders.

In helping to bridge the gap between faith (religion) and secularism, FLU builds leaders who can operate and serve in a secular world while excelling in their various fields without compromising their faith.

FLU graduates are leaders who go on to create positive change in social, religious, economic and political fields across the world.

Our initial academic courses are Certificate, Bachelor and Masters level degrees in Business Administration with specialization in Leadership and Theology.
